1. INTERPRETATION
In these terms and conditions (Terms) the terms and expressions set out in Schedule 1 shall have the meanings set out therein and the rules of interpretation in Schedule 1 shall apply.

2. APPLICATION OF TERMS
2.1. Each order for Products and request for Services from the Customer to the Company shall be subject to and governed by these Terms. A quotation or offer to sell the Products and Services shall be subject to these Terms. Subject to any variation under condition 2.2 the Contract will be on these Terms to the exclusion of all other terms and conditions, including any terms or conditions which the Company is required by law or under an express undertaking given by the Company to purchase order confirmation of order, specification or other document or which are implied by trade, custom, practice or course of dealing.

2.2. The Company reserves the right to alter to all the Company's sales and any variations to these Terms and any representations, warranties or other statements about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorised representative of the Company.

2.3. Any samples, drawings, descriptive matter or advertising issued by the Company and any descriptions of the Products or illustrations or descriptions of the Services contained in the Company's catalogues or brochures are issued or published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate idea of the Products and/or Services described in them. They shall not form part of the Contract or for any contractual force unless they are agreed to be included in or attached to the Quotation.

2.4. Any typographical, clerical or other error or omission in any sales literature, quotation, price list, order form or other document or information or instruction or in any communication (whether in writing or in oral) between the parties relating to the Contract shall not constitute a basis for refusal or cancellation of any Contract.
shall notify the Customer and (i) either party may without liability to the other party terminate the Contract immediately by giving notice in writing to the other; or (ii) The Customer may require the Company to use reasonable endeavours to agree appropriate changes to the terms of acceptance tests, amendment of the Quotation and/or reduction in the Price as, after taking to account all the relevant circumstances, is reasonable.
7.2. In the event that the Company is unable to deliver the Products in compliance with any Export Control Laws the Company may, at its option, (a) pay a pro rata proportion of the Price for the Products delivered; (b) the Customer shall not use the Software on any equipment other than the Products and/or Prototypes to which it relates; (c) the Customer shall not reproduce, translate, adapt, vary or modify the Software, nor communicate it to any third party, without the Company’s written consent;
8. POST-DELIVERY ACCEPTANCE TESTS
8.1. The provisions of this condition shall only apply where the Company has expressly agreed in the Quotation to test the Products and/or Prototypes before delivery, the Company has no obligation to carry out any tests on the Products and/or Prototypes before delivery to the Customer.
8.2. No later than 30 days from the date of signature of this agreement, the Company shall deliver documentation and/or arrangements needed for the Acceptance Tests for the Products and/or Prototypes. These criteria and data shall be such as are reasonably necessary to show that the Products and/or Prototypes comply with their specification, and the Company shall provide the Customer with reasonable assistance to prepare such user acceptance criteria and test data at the Customer’s request. The parties shall use best endeavours to agree the Acceptance Tests for the Products and/or Prototypes within three months of the date of the Company’s acceptance of the Quotation, the Price includes the licence fee for the Customer’s right to use any Software provided as part of the Products and/or Services.
8.3. Within ten days of delivery of the Products and/or Prototypes, the Acceptance Tests shall be carried out. The Acceptance Tests shall be started as soon as reasonably possible after installation and shall be run continuously during normal working hours. The Customer shall carry out the agreed Acceptance Tests for the Products and/or Prototypes unless the Company notifies the Customer that it will carry out the Acceptance Tests. The party carrying out the Acceptance Tests shall give the other party at least 24 hours’ notice of the start of the Acceptance Tests and permit the other party to observe all or any part of the testing.
8.4. If the Products and/or Prototypes fail to pass the Acceptance Tests, the Customer may, within 5 days from the completion of the Acceptance Tests, or any part of these tests, provide a written notice to this effect, giving details of such failure(s). The Company shall use reasonable endeavours to remove, repair or accept defects and deficiencies and the relevant tests(s) shall be repeated within a reasonable time.
8.5. If the Products and/or Prototypes fail in some material respect to pass any repeated Acceptance Tests, unless the Company, at its expense, is able to correct material defects within a period of three months from the commencement of Acceptance Tests under condition 8.2, to reject the Products and/or Prototypes as not being in conformity with the Contract, in which event the Customer may terminate the Contract.
8.6. The Products and/or Prototypes shall be deemed accepted by the Customer if whichever is the earlier:
(a) at least 10 days after delivery of the Products and/or Prototypes, the Acceptance Tests have not started, or have not been pursued with due diligence, unless such failure results from the Company’s failure to pass the Acceptance Tests; or (b) the Customer uses the Products and/or Prototypes in the normal course of the Customer’s business.
9. EXPORT AND COMPLIANCE WITH POLICIES
9.1. Where the Products are supplied for export from the United Kingdom, the provisions of this condition shall subject to any contrary terms agreed in writing between the Customer and the Company shall apply. The Company shall provide the Customer with reasonable assistance to prepare such user acceptance criteria and test data at the Customer’s request. The parties shall use best endeavours to agree the Acceptance Tests for the Products and/or Prototypes within three months of the date of the Company’s acceptance of the Quotation, the Price includes the llicence fee for the Customer’s right to use any Software provided as part of the Products and/or Services.
9.2. Unless specified in the Quotation or otherwise agreed in writing by the Company, the Customer shall be responsible for obtaining any necessary import licences or permits necessary to bring the Products and/or Prototypes into the country where the Customer is located, and the Customer shall, upon delivery of the Products and/or Prototypes, deliver the Products to the Customer. The Customer shall be responsible for any customs duties, clearance charges, taxes, brokers’ fees and other amounts payable in connection with the importation of the Products and/or Prototypes. The Customer is deemed to have obtained all necessary consents and permissions which affect or may affect the Products and/or Services (Local Regulations) any special site conditions and/or any safe working procedures. If the Customer fails to inform the Company of any such conditions or procedures, the Company may, at its option, delay delivery of the Products and/or Prototypes, and shall not be liable for any failure by the Customer to obtain such consents or permissions.
9.3. The Customer shall be responsible for ensuring that the Contract is performed in accordance with all applicable laws and regulations, and shall not be liable for any failure by the Customer to apply the proceeds of sale thereof if sold, and the scrap value if destroyed, 9.4. Each party undertakes:
(a) contractually to obligate any third party to whom it discloses or transfers any such data
or documents; or
(b) to fix a new date for carrying out further tests on the Products and/or Prototypes on the same terms and conditions. If the Products and/or Prototypes fail such further tests then the Customer may request a repeat test under this condition 8;
(b) to co-operate with the Company in all matters relating to the Services;
(c) to require the Customer to apply the proceeds of sale thereof if sold, and the scrap value
if destroyed,
9.5. In circumstances where the Company has agreed to obtain any necessary import licences or permits necessary for the entry of the Products into the country where the Company is located, the Company is entitled to charge the Customer in use of such control, whether the Products and/or Services can be delivered to the Customer in compliance with any Export Control Laws the Company may have the Company provide the Customer with reasonable arraige the Acceptance Tests for the Products and/or Prototypes before delivery, the Company has no obligation to carry out any tests on the Products and/or Prototypes before delivery to the Customer.
9.1. Where the Products are supplied for export from the United Kingdom, the provisions of this condition shall subject to any contrary terms agreed in writing between the Customer and the Company shall apply. The Company shall provide the Customer with reasonable assistance to prepare such user acceptance criteria and test data at the Customer’s request. The parties shall use best endeavours to agree the Acceptance Tests for the Products and/or Prototypes within three months of the date of the Company’s acceptance of the Quotation, the Price includes the llicence fee for the Customer’s right to use any Software provided as part of the Products and/or Services.
9.2. Unless specified in the Quotation or otherwise agreed in writing by the Company, the Customer shall be responsible for obtaining any necessary import licences or permits necessary to bring the Products and/or Prototypes into the country where the Customer is located,
and the Customer shall, upon delivery of the Products and/or Prototypes, deliver the Products to the Customer. The Customer shall be responsible for any customs duties, clearance charges, taxes, brokers’ fees and other amounts payable in connection with the importation of the Products and/or Prototypes. The Customer is deemed to have obtained all necessary consents and permissions which affect or may affect the Products and/or Services (Local Regulations) any special site conditions and/or any safe working procedures. If the Customer fails to inform the Company of any such conditions or procedures, the Company may, at its option, delay delivery of the Products
and/or Prototypes, and shall not be liable for any failure by the Customer to obtain such consents or permissions.
9.3. The Customer shall be responsible for ensuring that the Contract is performed in accordance with all applicable laws and regulations, and shall not be liable for any failure by the Customer to apply the proceeds of sale thereof if sold, and the scrap value if destroyed,
9.4. Each party undertakes:
(a) contractually to obligate any third party to whom it discloses or transfers any such data
or documents; or
(b) to fix a new date for carrying out further tests on the Products and/or Prototypes on the same terms and conditions. If the Products and/or Prototypes fail such further tests then the Customer may request a repeat test under this condition 8;
(b) to co-operate with the Company in all matters relating to the Services;
(c) to require the Customer to apply the proceeds of sale thereof if sold, and the scrap value
if destroyed,
9.5. In circumstances where the Company has agreed to obtain any necessary import licences or permits necessary for the entry of the Products into the country where the Company is located, the Company is entitled to charge the Customer in use of such control, whether the Products and/or Services can be delivered to the Customer in compliance with any Export Control Laws the Company may have out of or in connection with any claim made against the Company by a third party arising out of or in connection with the provision of the Services or supply of the Products, Deliverables and subcontractors, subject to the limits of liability set out in condition 16.3.

13. DISPUTE

13.1. The Products and Prototypes are at the risk of the Customer from the time of delivery.

13.2. Ownership of the Products and Prototypes shall not pass to the Customer until the Company has received in full (in cash or cleared funds) all sums due to it in respect of the Products and Prototypes.

13.3. Until ownership of the Products and Prototypes has passed to the Customer, the Customer must:
(a) hold the Products and Prototypes on a fiduciary basis as the Company’s bailee;
(b) store the Products and Prototypes (at no cost to the Company) separately from all other goods and, if the Customer fails to do so, the Customer ceases to be a bailee in such a way that they remain readily identifiable as the Company’s property;
(c) not destroy, deface or obscure any identifying mark or packaging on or relating to the Products or the Prototypes;
(d) maintain the Products and Prototypes in satisfactory condition and keep them insured on the Company’s behalf for their full price against all risks to the reasonable satisfaction of the Company. The Customer shall provide the Company with evidence of such insurance at any time on request and the Company shall be entitled to deduct the amount of any insurance settlement received by the Customer in respect of any loss or damage to the Products and Prototypes from any payment due from the Customer to the Company; and
(e) if the Customer proceeds to transfer the Products and Prototypes, it shall require the proceeds of the insurance referred to in condition 13.3(d) on trust for the benefit of the Company and not mix them with any other money, nor pay the proceeds into an overdrawn bank account but, if the Customer shall so resell or use the Products in the ordinary course of its business, the proceeds may be set off or re-apply as the Company sees fit.

13.4. Until ownership has passed the Customer’s right to possession of the Products and Prototypes shall terminate immediately if the Customer ceases trading or is unable to pay its debts as they fall due or a petition is presented or meeting convened for the purpose of winding the Customer up or the Customer enters into liquidation, whether voluntarily, or compounds with its creditors generally or has a receiver appointed of all or any part of its assets or the Customer makes any arrangement with its creditors generally or has a receiver appointed of all or any part of its assets or the Customer is dissolved, or the Customer enters into an arrangement or scheme with creditors generally.

13.5. The Customer shall upon request produce evidence of insurance to the Company and if the Customer fails to do so, or does not produce any such evidence to the Company’s reasonable satisfaction, the Customer shall indemnify and hold the Company harmless against all claims and damages to which the Company may be exposed by reason of the unavailability of insurance.

13.6. The Customer grants the Company, its agents and employees an irrevocable licence at any time to enter any premises where the Products and Prototypes are or may be stored in order to inspect them, or, where the Customer’s right to possession has terminated, to recover them.

14. TERMINATION AND SETTLEMENT

14.1. The Company may terminate the Contract immediately at any time by written notice if:
(a) the Customer commits a breach of any term of the Contract;
(b) the Customer fails to make any payment due under the Contract by the due date for payment;
(c) the Customer ceases trading or is unable to pay its debts as they fall due or a petition is presented or meeting convened for the purpose of winding the Customer up or the Customer enters into liquidation, whether voluntarily, or compounds with its creditors generally or has a receiver appointed of all or any part of its assets or the Customer makes any arrangement with its creditors generally or has a receiver appointed of all or any part of its assets or the Customer is dissolved, or the Customer enters into an arrangement or scheme with creditors generally.

14.2. On termination, however it arises, the Customer shall pay to the Company all costs and expenses, including legal and other fees incurred and all arrears of charges or other payments arising in respect of the Contract or otherwise.

14.3. If at any time the Products and/or Services or any part of the same become contrary to any statutory or regulatory requirements or any mandatory or non-mandatory embargo, or Company reasonably believes the Products and/or Services are likely to become so, the Company may, without liability to the Customer, immediately suspend performance of the Contract or immediately terminate the Contract in whole or in part.

14.4. Promptly following termination or if earlier, promptly following a written request from the Company, the Customer shall, at the Customer’s cost and expense, on such dates and times as the Company may reasonably require, remove or recover the Products and/or Services required by the Company and not mix them with any other money, nor pay the proceeds into an overdrawn bank account but, if the Customer shall so resell or use the Products in the ordinary course of its business, the proceeds may be set off or re-apply as the Company sees fit.

15. WARRANTY

15.1. The Company shall use all reasonable care and skill to provide the Products and perform the Services to the Customer in a professional and efficient manner.

15.2. The Company warrants that during the Warranty Period, the Products shall conform to the warranty set out in condition 15.2.

15.3. Subject to condition 15.4 and 15.5, if:
(a) the Customer makes any use of the Products in respect of which it has given written notice under Condition 15.3(a);
(b) the Customer has failed to do either or both of the following:
(i) give notice to the Company of the alleged defect; or
(ii) take such steps as the Company requires for the purpose of examining the Products;
(c) any event occurs which, if continues, will make the Customer incapable of performing its obligations;
(d) the Company’s entire aggregate liability to the Customer in respect of any and all Events of Default for the unexpired portion of the warranty period is given by the Company under Condition 15.2.

15.4. The warranty in condition 15.2 does not cover defects arising from:
(a) the Customer’s use or misuse of the Products;
(b) any accident or force majeure;
(c) the Customer’s failure to follow the Company’s oral or written instructions or any applicable specification in all material respects.

15.5. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, the warranty in condition 15.2 does not cover defects arising from:
(a) the Customer’s use or misuse of the Products;
(b) any accident or force majeure;
(c) the Customer’s failure to follow the Company’s oral or written instructions or any applicable specification in all material respects.

15.6. The Company shall not be liable for defects arising from:
(a) the Customer’s use or misuse of the Products;
(b) any accident or force majeure;
(c) the Customer’s failure to follow the Company’s oral or written instructions or any applicable specification in all material respects.

15.7. Except as provided in this condition 15, the Company shall have no liability to the Customer in respect of the Products failure to comply with the warranty set out in condition 15.2.

16. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

16.1. In this condition 16 the following shall mean an “Event of Default”:
(a) any breach by the Company of its contractual obligations arising under the Contract (other than a breach arising from willful default or recklessness);
(b) any misrepresentation, misdescription, statement or non-disclosure by Company and/or any of its employees or agents in connection with the Contract or the Products or Prototypes.

16.2. Subject to condition 16.3:
(a) the Company shall not be liable to the Customer in respect of any Event of Default for:
(i) loss of profits;
(ii) loss of business; (iii) depletion of goodwill or similar losses; (iv) loss of reputation; or
(v) any special, indirect, consequential, or punitive loss, costs, damages or expenses (including legal and other fees incurred and all arrears of charges or other payments arising in respect of the Contract or otherwise).

16.3. Subject to condition 16.4:
(a) the Company acknowledges that the Company shall have no liability in respect of the suitability of the Products and/or Services which have been recommended and/or selected by the Customer in accordance with the Customer’s requirements and/or for some reason other than the Company’s negligence or the Customer’s carelessness.
(b) the Company shall not be liable to the Customer in respect of any Event of Default for:
(i) loss of profits; (ii) loss of business; (iii) depletion of goodwill or similar losses; (iv) loss of reputation; or
(v) any special, indirect, consequential, or punitive loss, costs, damages, charges or expenses even if such loss was reasonably foreseeable or likely to be incurred by the Customer or any third party.

16.4. If a number of Events of Default give rise substantially to the same loss or a number of Events of Default are connected, then for the purposes of the warranty set out in condition 15.2 the Customer will be entitled to only one claim under these Terms.

16.5. The Customer hereby agrees to afford the Company not less than 60 days (following notification thereof by the Company) in which to remedy any Event of Default hereunder.

16.6. If, by the end of that period, the Company has not remedied the缺陷 or has failed to remedy the Default so that it is not able to continue to perform under the Contract, the Customer shall be entitled to terminate the Contract by giving the Company notice in writing.

16.7. The Company shall not be liable for defects in Products caused by faulty wear and tear, and shall not be liable for defects in Products which it would not otherwise be legally entitled.
16.8. Notwithstanding any other provision under these Terms or otherwise each party’s liability to the other for: (a) personal injury resulting from its own or its employees’, agents’ or sub- contractors’ negligence; and/or (b) any breach of the terms implied by Section 12 of the Sale of Goods Act 1979 or Section 2 of the Supply of Goods and Services Act 1982; any record kept pursuant to the licence granted in Company the Customer has no right (and shall not permit any third party) to copy, adapt, own policies and procedures to ensure compliance with the Relevant Requirements.

16.9. Subject to condition 16.8, the terms implied by sections 13 to 15 of the Sale of Goods Act 1979 and sections 3, 4 and 5 of the Supply of Goods and Services Act 1982 and all other obligations imposed by virtue of any statute or common law are, to the fullest extent permitted by law, excluded from the Contract.

16.10. Subject to condition 16.8 and except as expressly and specifically provided in the Contract:

(a) Prototypes are provided to the Customer on an “as is” basis without any warranty whatsoever; and
(b) the Customer assumes sole responsibility for any use made of the Prototypes.

17. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

17.1. All Background Intellectual Property shall remain the exclusive property of the party owning the Intellectual Property (the “Licensor”) from whom its right to use the Background Intellectual Property has derived.

17.2. The Customer only exercises those rights in the Customer Background Intellectual Property that the Customer wishes to use in connection with the Services and the Prototypes.

17.3. The Customer acknowledges that subject to condition 17.1, any and all Intellectual Property Rights or in arising out of or in connection with the Services and the Products shall be owned by the Company.

17.4. The Customer hereby assigns to the Company, with full title guarantee, all rights in and to any Foreground Intellectual Property for the full duration of such rights, wherever in the world enforceable and all materials embodying these rights to the fullest extent permitted by law. Notwithstanding the above, the Company (a) shall not do, nor permit any third party to do, any act that would infringe, or reasonably be considered to infringe, any Intellectual Property Rights (including any software or any development or enhancement of any software) of any third party; and (b) shall not do, nor permit any third party to do, (i) any act that would infringe, or reasonably be considered to infringe, any Intellectual Property Rights (including any software or any development or enhancement of any software) of any third party; or (ii) any act that would infringe, or reasonably be considered to infringe, any Intellectual Property Rights (including any software or any development or enhancement of any software) of any person other than a customer of the Customer.

17.5. The Customer warrants to the Company that the use of the Customer’s Background Intellectual Property shall, in accordance with the Contract by the Company, not infringe the rights of any third party.

17.6. At the Customer’s expense the Customer shall, and shall use all reasonable endeavours to, give notice to any third party that a transfer of the Customer’s Background Intellectual Property or the intellectual property rights in the Customer Background Intellectual Property that the Customer exercises actionable or non-actionable rights under such intellectual property rights are exercised. The Customer shall enforce its rights and shall use all reasonable steps to prevent unauthorised performance of its obligations pursuant to the Contract (unless such information is in the public domain or is already known to the non-disclosing party otherwise than as a result of a breach of any duty of confidentiality owed in respect of such information).

17.7. The Customer acknowledges that, in respect of any third party Intellectual Property Rights in the Services, the Customer’s use of any such Intellectual Property Rights is conditioned on a written licence from the relevant licensor on such terms as will entitle the Company to license such rights to the Customer.

17.8. For the avoidance of doubt other than as expressly agreed in writing nothing shall be interpreted as enabling the Customer to use the Deliverables and Prototypes for any purpose other than the business purposes to which the Deliverables and Prototypes relate and may be such use of a nature and extent as the Customer reasonably decides is appropriate.

17.9. In the event the Customer is required to make any payments to any Licensor and the Customer has received written approval by the Licensor, the Customer shall reimburse the Company for any fees, costs and expenses incurred by the Company in connection with the Licensor’s obligations.

17.10. Subject to condition 17.7, the Company hereby grants to the Customer a non-exclusive, non-transferable, non-exclusive right to use all the Deliverables and Prototypes in accordance with the Contract and relating to the subject matter of the Contract shall remain in full force and effect.

18. NON-SOLICITATION

18.1. Both parties shall treat Confidential Information obtained from the other as confidential and shall not without the prior written agreement of the other at any time hereafter (save as required by law or any regulatory organisation with authority over it) disclose such information to any third party (other than those of its officers, employees advisers and agents whose responsibilities require them to know the same) or use it for any purposes other than for the performance of its obligations pursuant to the Contract (unless such information is in the public domain or is already known to the non-disclosing party otherwise than as a result of a breach of any duty of confidentiality owed in respect of such information).

18.2. The parties agree that unless otherwise agreed by the parties, any confidentiality agreement between the Customer and the Company signed on or before the date of the Contract will continue in force until the date upon which the Contract shall remain in full force and effect.

19. ANTI-BRIBERY AND ANTI-SLAVERY

19.1. Each party shall comply with all applicable laws, statutes and regulations relating to anti-bribery and anti-slavery, including the Bribery Act 2010 (the “Relevant Requirements”) and shall have and maintain in place throughout the term of the Contract its own policies and procedures to ensure compliance with the Relevant Requirements.

20. INDEMNITY

20.1. Both parties will comply with all applicable requirements of Applicable Data Protection Laws. This condition 20 is in addition to, and does not relieve, remove or replace, both parties obligations under Applicable Data Protection Laws.

20.2. In respect of personal data of which the Customer is the controller and the Company is the processor (as the terms controller and processor are defined in the Data Protection Legislation), the parties agree as follows:

(a) the Quotation sets out the scope, nature and purpose of processing by the Company, the duration of the processing and the types of personal data processed by the Company on behalf of the Customer (Processor);
(b) the Customer will ensure that it has all necessary appropriate consents and notices in place to enable lawful transfer of the Personal Data to the Company for the duration and purposes set out in the Quotation (Objection);
(c) the Customer gives the Company general authorisation to appoint sub-processors of Personal Data under the Contract.

22. NOTICE

22.1. Each party shall notify the other of any intended changes concerning the addition or replacement of sub-processors of Personal Data under the Contract (Change Notice), thereby giving the Company the opportunity to object to such changes. If the Company does not notify the Customer of its objection to the Change Notice, the Customer is deemed to have accepted the change. If, following receipt of a Change Notice, the Customer objects to the addition or replacement of the sub-contractor who is to process Personal Data, the Contractor shall promptly notify the Company of such objection. The receipt of a Change Notice outlining the reasons for its objection (Objection).

22.2. Each party shall notify the other of any change in its registered office address (Change Notice) within 5 days of receipt of the Change Notice or by written notice (Objection). The receipt of such written notice of objection (Objection) shall be delayed by the Customer shall consider the reasons for its objection and such delay shall not exceed 10 days from the receipt of the Change Notice.

22.3. To the extent that the Customer’s consent is required by law to novate the burden of performance of the Contract, the Customer shall notify the Company in writing of, and identify to the Company, any individual or company to whom the Customer intends to novate the burden of performance of the Contract in replacing such person (Novation).
Neither party shall be liable for delay in performing or failure to perform obligations under this Contract if the delay or failure results from "force majeure". For the purposes of the Contract "force majeure" shall mean any act of God, flood, war, act or omission of government, strike, failure of delivery or shortage of materials, panic or epidemic, strike or other industrial action of any kind, malicious damage default of suppliers or sub-contractors, accident failure or breakdown of plant or machinery fire flood explosion any act of civil authority or any cause or circumstance whatsoever outside the reasonable control of the parties.

The European Union or any member state of the European Union to which the Company is bound; (c) any information developed by the parties in the course of or in connection with the provision of the Services that were: (a) created and/or developed by any party, or (b) created and/or developed before the effective date of the Contract.

The Company under the Contract as set out in the Quotation together with any other services which the Company provides or agrees to provide to the Customer; and (c) any other Intellectual Property Rights that arise or are obtained or developed by either party in the performance of the Services including those prototype products set out in the Quotation.
